In doing so, we follow our maxim to provide our readers with comprehensive information from the fibre to the finished product, covering current topics and all facets of the textile supply chain, such as technical textiles.

Important topics such as digitalization, Industry 4.0, sourcing, production close to market, sustainability, research to worth knowing textile events and innovations from the international markets of the world are at the heart of our editorial coverage. Proof: When making the proof please consider that our printer works with standard PSO-ISO 12647-2 values both in the preparatory and in the printing stages.
